Local and General Politics Jumbled. MESSES. EDITORS: By the advertisement in your paper of the 21st I see that the Committee of the Second Ward have "Resolved, that they will continue the organization of that Ward on Waig principles; require the enactment of laws to shield them from foreign legislation; restriction of Executive power; a Currency regulated by one Legislature, and not twenty-six; a limit of one term of the Presidential office:" &c. &c. This Committee, I presume, nominated the City Officers as well as others.

I believe the Democrats are not less busy in "organizing" Wards on their principles; so I have no exclusive complaints to make against either; but if I could see what they intend to do about the business of the City of New-York, I should be somewhat better satisfied. It appears to me that the local business, sometimes the local sovereignty, is sacrificed to the Union or the State -generally the former; that the local governments are electioneering instruments used by parties: and that the tendency of this is to centralize the power of the People, and make the central power the effective controller of local affairs. Not that the constitution or laws prescribe such a course but parties, intent on success in National or State affairs, believe they can gain votes by compromising local interests, and therefore endeavor to place their zealous supporters in the local offices, for the purpose of doing the best they can far the Union, and without regard to the interests they are bound to support. If ever the political condition of this country becomes intolerable, it will be in consequence of an undue accumulation of power in the Union Government and in the State Governments and the loss of that power by the Municipalities and Townships; and whether these governments themselves, by direct usurpation, or their volunteer local committees, by their imprudent manusuvres, shall make the local interests subservient to the general interests, cannot make much practical dif-There is one principle which I believe would preserve the local sovereignty, and which I am therefore auxious to have adopted, that of subjecting measures to the popular vote. For myself and I know many agree with me, I am in favor o many City and State regulations which are oppo sed by the party whose leading maxims on Union affairs I prefer to the other party; but I fee constrained not to uid in defeating that party for the sake of these local regulations. I therefore wish to take measures separately, and not in parcels-to vote on each, that I may not vote agains those I approev, and fail to vote in favor of those I approve. It is said by some that the vote on measures-which has always been the distinguishing feature of the local governments in New-England -is inconvenient, because it obliges the citizens to vote often, and attend to small affairs, which they would rather leave to the discretion of their offi cers, &c. But it may be so applied as to remove this difficulty: we may adopt a general rule, re quiring that a majority of all the votes, according to the registry, shall be required to annul any act of the local authorities, or to carry any measure proposed by a number of private citizens; so that e who acquiesces in the acts of the officers, o does not favor the private proposition, may remain at home without losing his influence on those matters :- his not voting would be equivalent to a vote

I believe almost any number of proposition might be submitted, at the regular elections, with out subjecting the City to any extra cost, save that of counting the votes.

Your obedient servant.

A LAWYER'S FIRST CAUSE .- When our friend F. was first admitted to plead at the bar in a court of justice, he felt very diffident of his own powers. The first cause he undertook was a ver important one; and as he arranged the papers connected with the affair, for the purpose of taking them to court, he exclaimed in the language of Pope: Thou great first cause least understood

CITY INTELLIGENCE. Reported for The New-York Tribune.

CIVIL COURTS. Wenneshay, February 23,

In the Superior Court the Jury returned : verdict in the case of Count vs. Bell, [endorse ment on a note of Geo. W. Tyson, which Mr Bell declares to be a forgery.] For plaintiff, $4,102 05, being principal and interest. In the Court of Common Pleas an action to false imprisonment was brought by Daniel Mallen against Dr. Elwood Irish, the demages laid at $2,000. The plaintiff was at the house of Mi chael Linn, No. 8 3d Avenue, on the 23th August last. Some little trouble occurred, when Mrs. Linn drew him into her room and locked the door. The husband came, and not being over anxious to have him there, (although he denied having expe rienced any thing like jealousy.) requested the defendant to break the door open, and get him out. He did so, and gave him in charge of the watch, causing him to be detained through the night in one of the cells. Verdici for plaintiff, $50 damages, which carries costs.

POLICE OFFICE.

TUESDAY, February 22. ARREST OF AN ESCAPED BURGLAR .- A few day since a white man, named Charles Campbell, wa ordered to be brought out of prison before the Coart of Sessions, to be discharged. Instead of the intended Charles Campbell, a colored burglar, of the same name, was brought into Court and discharged by mistake. As soon as the error was discovered a bench warrant was issued, and on Tuesday night, (midnight) officer James L. Smith, accompanied by Mr. J. Ruckle, deputy keeper of Blackwell's Island, set out to find and arrest the escaped burglar. They found him kennelled in a year house in Church st. occupied by a colored thief named Lewis; and routing him, he fled over fences and through varids, and was finally chased into a house in Church st. in a corner of the garret of which he was found secreted-and being dragged out, was recommitted to prison, to be tried for his numerous burglaries and thefts.

ARRESTS FOR COUNTERFEITING .- Two females named Bridget Farley and Rosanna Hosey, sis ters, went on Monday night to the store of Mr. John Young, No. 133 Houston street, and the former purchasing a pair of shoes, tendered a five dollar counterfest bill of the Tradesmen's Bank in payment. The clerk, having at once discovered that the bill was bad called in the watch and had the sisters lodged in the watch house. Or Tuesday they were taken to the Upper Police Office. where Bridget said she received the bill from Rosauna, and the latter asserted that she had found wrapped up in a paper on the sidewalk near Washington Parade Ground, and supposed it to be good. They were both however committed to prison in default of $500 bail each. Stephen Warren, who said he resided at No. 85 R Beck. Forsyth-street, went to the store of Mr. James Armstrong, No. 460 Bowery, and purchasing 25 cents worth of groceries, offered a $5 counterfeit bill of the Tradesmens' bank in payment. The bill was discovered to be worthless, and Warren lodged in the watch-house. On Tuesday, in default of $500 bail, he was committed to prison.

T Professor Buchholtz's Compound Sy-Try Professor Buchholiz's Compound Syrup of Capilaria.—This invaluable medicine is presented to the American public as the best known remedyfor Consumption. Liver Complaint. Chronic Coughs, Hoarseness, and all Pulmomary Affections. It was invented by Dr. Buchholtz, (or Germany.) Professor of Medicine and Chemistry in the University of Erfurth in Prussia, and member of most of the scientific societies on the Continent of Europe, and used by him in his private practice in that country with great success. When this medicine was introduced in Prussia, the King (as an expression of his confidence in its merits) give the inventor a large reward, and the exclusive right to prepare and sell it his kingdom. The public can have the fullest confidence in this being the genusse medicine, as to prepare and sell it in his kingdom. The public can have the fullest confidence in this being the genuse medicine, as the receipt was obtained from a nephew of the inventor, (a German physician of the same name.) who received it directly from him. This medicine is purely vegetable, and is entirely free from morphine or opium, which forms the basis of nearly all the cough remedies now in use. It operates slowly upon the system, and when first taken it sometimes produces sickness at the stomach, and increases the disposition to cough, but this is attended with less pain and easy expectoration. It removes the ulcerated and unhealthy parts of the lugg, entirely eradicates the disease, and restores the whole system to perfect health. The fact is admitted by most physicians, that persons may live in the emolyment of good health with but a portion of the lungs remaining, which proves conclusively that diseased langs can be cured. It is the design of this remedy to produce this result, and if taken according to the directions, and in time for its operation, such will be the effect. We do not pretend for its operation, such will be the effect. We do not pretend that this will cure in the last stages of the disease, as it requires from one to three months to remove the store the system to health. There are thousands of persons who are taught from their youth that they inherit consumption, and that an early grave must inevitably be their portion: now to such we would say with the fullest confidence of the truth, that with the imely use of this remedy they may be restored to the en-oyment of perfect health. This medicine is entitled to the confidence of the intelligent portion of the community, from the fact of its favorable notice and successful operation in the fact of its favorable honce and successful operation in Europe, and the high standing of the inventor; we are wil-ling to let it rest upon its own merits. It has already been tested in this city, and the persons cured can be referred to by inquiring at the office of the Proprietors. We prefer the mode of satisfying those who wish to know its effects, rather than to publish certificates. We beg the public emn this as one of the medical humbugs of the day, until its As an assurance of our confidence in the article, we war-rant the first bottle to afford relief, or the purchase money

RANT had on my neighbor, the Rev. Mr. Rusling, made so favorable an impression on my mind that after consulting with several friends, and learning that you were a regular Practitioner of Medicine, I called upon you, and purchased half a dozen bottles, and told you that if I lived to take them, you should have a good report from me.

I am alive and well this day! Thanks be to a merciful God, and your Expectorant; and now I come forward cheerfully to fulfil my promise.

For twenty long years had I been a constant sufferer from the effects of a hard dry cough, pain in my breast, and difficulty of breathing; the last five of which chills and fevers, every spring and full, were added to my misery. I was worn away to a mere skeleton; with the greatest difficulty only could I getting and down stairs; my appetite was gone, and my strength had so far failed me, that my triends were my strength had so far failed me, that my friends wer and my strength had so far falled me, that my friends were persuaded I could not survive many weeks, unless I obtained relief. Indeed, sir, my situation was so perfectly iniserable to myself and family, that I felt willing to die, whenever it should please the Master to take me home. But I heard of your medicine, and relief came. Yes! it proved the "Balm of Gilead" to my poor afflicted body. Before I had taken ONE BOTTLE I experienced a midgation of all my symptoms, and to my great joy I found in the continued use of it the happiest relief. In short, sir, it has made a perfect cure of one, and I can truly say I have no desire to be better cure of one, and I can truly say I have no desire to be better. Now I consider it a duty I owe you, and through you ublic, to make my case known, believing that it will!

public, to make my case known, beneving that it which the means of directing handreds who are afflicted as I have been, to the use of a remedy which, under the blessings of God. I consider to have preserved my life. You are at liberty, sir, to make use of this letter to your advantage, and make my case as extensively known as you please. If there he any who doubt the truth of the above account, refer them to me. I shall be happy to see them, and will not only confirm the above statements, but will give TMPORTANT Testimony .- If further proof is required to establish the fact of the inestima-ble value of Dr. Starkweather's Hepatic Elivir, the fol-lowing communication from the Hon. Samuel W. King, Governor of the State of Rhode Island, centains adequate testimony to substantiate it beyond dispute, and must put entirely at rest the idea that this potent remedy is classed with the many useless and dangerous nostrums which are palmed upon the public merely for the sake of gain. llowing statements communicated to the undersigned by His Excellency, under date of undersigned by His Excellency, under date of Johnston, Jan. 29, 1842.

Mr. Charles Dyer, Jr. My dear Sir—Your communication of yesterday, asking my opinion of Dr. Starkweather's Hepatic Elixir, has been received this morning. In reply, I will inform you that my confidence in patent medicines generally is not very flattering. I have had too much reason to believe that unprincipled men will often palm upon their fellow chilzens their useless if not dangerous restrains for the sake of gain, the use of which takes up that important and critical period of time without producing any good effect, when otherwise perhaps, proper remedies would have been used, and much suffering and distress prevented. For that reason I have not used them, feeling myself and family to be much safer under the directions of my family physito be much safer under the directions of my family plays clans; but having been afflicted for the last six years with lifficulties in the side and chest, uncomfortable and offer distressing, painful and somewhat alarming, and from which distressing, painful and somewhat alarming, and from which I could get only temporary relief. I very fortunately noticed your advertisement of the medicine in question.

I had been a school boy with Dr. Starkweather, and had with him a long and intimate acquaintance when we were young men, and from my knowledge of him I thought him incapable of practising deception on any person, this fact induced me to try Dr. Starkweather's Hepatic Elixir, and by its use I now believe myself to be entirely cured.

I need not, therefore, say to you that I consider it of great value. I certainly think its discovery of great public importance.

The first bottle I took gave me much relief, which regi The first obtale I load, gave me inten relate, which regarderly progressed until I had taken six bottles, when I discontinued it, having, thank God, no further use for it at present.

With much regard and respect,
Your obedient and humble servant,
SAML, W. KING.

PISH'S 'SPRING STYLE' for Gentlemen's HATS.—Notice.—The subscriber announces to the Gentlemen of New-York that he purposes on the Ist of March ensuing to introduce the 'Spring Fashion' for Gent.'s Hats. The shape to be presented will be in continuation of the series of American Fashions as introduced by him last fall under the title of the "Metropolitan" Model. The unprecedented favor and popularity which that style obtained, at once determines the subscriber to adhere to the policy commenced by him, namely, that of adopting a system of Original Pashions in preference to relying upon foreign standards. The model about to be submitted to the fashionable public, although differing from the last in its general appearance, will commend itself to the comoisseur for its elegance and exact symmetrical proportions. The form and arrangement of the brim no less than that of the for its elegance and exact symmetrical proportions. The form and arrangement of the brim no less than that of the form and arrangement of the brim no less than that of the crown will form a distinctive feature in the "Spring' Fashion. The whiest aimed at will be to impart a graceful and unique character to the Hat, and at the same time to adapt the size and style of the brim to the features of the wearer, so as to secure an appropriate effect in the 'tout ensemble' of the dress.
